In 2014, California unions enacted the strongest law in the country to protect temporary and contract workers in the new economy, we locked in funding to build the high-speed rail with hundreds of thousands of good union jobs, and we expanded paid sick days to 6.7 million workers.

Governor Brown signed dozens of bills to increase worker protections and raise labor standards, invest in our infrastructure and put people to work. He appointed good worker advocates to run the agencies that enforce the state's labor laws.

We continue the effort to regain economic security for millions of Californians who work hard without adequate pay. That requires elected leaders to stand with us and do what's right. That's why we salute our 2014 100%-ers, who share our commitment to rebuilding the middle class. Together we will show what a vibrant and growing Labor Movement can accomplish and we will elect leaders who will join our fight for workers.

In solidarity,

Assembly Bills

- 1. Prevailing wage for clean up. AB 26 (Bonilla): Will clarify that post-construction clean-up work is part of public works construction and therefore triggers prevailing wage requirements.
SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR.
ASSEMBLY: 53-22 (8/18/14) SENATE: 26-8 (8/7/14)
- 2. Project Labor Agreement. AB 155 (Alejo): Will provide the Monterey County Water Resources Agency with design-build authority for a water transfer project and require a Project Labor Agreement with the Monterey County Building and Construction Trades Council.
